HAPPY NEW YEAR

Important Academy News

The new year is finally here! We are excited about the educational fun and activities that are planned for the children this year.

January is National Book Month and International Creativity Month. The classrooms will be focusing on different children's book authors, their stories and interacting in different activities throughout the month.

February is black history month. The children will learn about inventors, entrepreneurs and other important people throughout the month. February 14th we will be our Valentine's Day party. Each classroom will have a sign-up list to bring in treats and goodies.

March National Music in Our Schools Month. Musicologie of Westerville will be joining us for a music session. Music processing and language development share an overlapping network in the brain. "From an evolutionary perspective, the human brain developed music processing well before language and then used that processing to create and learn language". – Anita Collins, Misty Adoniou, 2018.

March 4 – 8 will be the week of Dr. Seuss

March 4th Librarian will come and read Stories by Dr. Seuss. March 5th Share time, the children will bring in their favorite story. March 6th Green eggs and ham, we will read the book and make green eggs and ham. Then make I am books! March 7th Create a cover for the I am books. March 8th we make Cat in the Hat, hats!

March 15th, we will have a St. Patrick's Day party, All the children are encouraged to wear green this day 😊.

Children are born naturally curious. We enrich that curiosity with a research-based curriculum built to develop your child's confidence, creativity, and lifelong critical thinking skills.
